

District of Columbia.
County of Alexandria, to wit: 1818.
November Term.
IN CHANCERY.
James Sanderson, Complainant, vs.
John Creighton & Company,
Defendants.

Defendant Catherine F. McCall not having entered her appearance and being duly notified according to the statute and the decree of the court, and it appearing to the court, upon affidavit, that the said defendant, Catherine F. McCall, do appear here on the day of the next Term, and enter her appearance, and give security for the performance of the decrees of the court, and do not pay away, convey or otherwise dispose of the property of the said defendant, Catherine F.
McCall, until the further order of the court; and that a copy of this decree be forthwith published for two months in one of the public newspapers published in this county; and that a copy be posted at the front door of the house of the said county.

PROPOSALS
BY JOSEPH M. SANDERSON, for publishing by subscription,
A BIOGRAPHY OF THE SIGNERS TO THE Declaration of Independence, ACCOMPANIED WITH PLATES, which will be annexed a history of the proceedings of congress during the passage of the law, and the Declaration itself, with fac-simile engravings of the signatures.

By PAUL ALLEN, Esq.
TO THE PUBLIC.
seems a little surprising that amongst many subjects as have been presented for American Biography, the lives of those who have affixed their signatures to the Declaration of Independence have been looked on or disregarded. The eyes of sands have dwelt with rapture upon the document that announced to the world that the United Colonies were, and of right ought to be, free, sovereign, and independent states; while we are better acquainted with the handwriting than with the characters of many of those illustrious men who have added their signatures to that immortal document. The founders of the only republic on the globe, have, with splendid exceptions, gone to their rest, and it behoves a generous posterity, able of their obligations, to preserve their fame. The longer we neglect the deed of so sacred a debt, the more difficult does the payment become.—Traits of individual character are fugitive and evan-escent; and if they are not snatched by hand of the Biographer, at an early season, from the cold grasp of death, will be in part of the oblivion of the body.— It is not the object of the present attempt, leaving in that profusion of indiscriminate unsparing panegyric, so often and so easily dignified with the name of Biography; we wish to represent the characters they were; they stand in need of no pa-tronic; and we earnestly solicit from the living relations and friends of those remarkable patriots all the information that can be developed of character, and of the creature of circumstance, and of the progress of those patriots, until they stood forth the noble undaunted champions of their country's freedom. All this can only be done by a familiar acquaintance with the lives of the men, and whoever of the surviving sons or relatives will furnish facts and circumstances in their possession to unfold illustrate their characters, shall be endowed to a copy of the work as a recompense. It is contemplated, wherever it is practicable, further to embellish the medium of work with correct likenesses of the signers of our biography, executed by the most eminent artists in the country. For this purpose we again solicit the assistance of their surviving relatives and friends. If any will transmit to the publisher any engraving or portrait from which a copy may be taken, the original shall be faithfully returned, and shall likewise be remunerated a copy of the work. In the first number it is proposed to give an account of the Declaration of Independence, from the first draft that was made on the floor of congress, embracing most curious and secret history; finally, we promise to add to our number the Declaration of Independence itself, with fac-simile engravings of the signatures. We have now completed the objects of our present undertaking, and we hope that it will be understood that no exertions on the public are now in possession of our work, which does indeed seem to be decided, by the avidity so recently displayed for the possession of the Declaration of Independence, since it is of very little importance to become acquainted with a man's life without a previous knowledge of the man. The secret history of our Declaration of Independence, the lives of those who have affixed their signatures to that immortal document, accompanied by their likenesses, finally the Declaration itself with facsimile of the signatures, will bring into presented view the prominent facts of that glorious crisis.

CONDITIONS.
The work will be published in number, or half volumes, of 150 pages octavo, and will be contained in ten numbers.
It will be printed on fine paper made expressly for the purpose, and delivered to subscribers at two dollars and fifty cents per volume or number, payable on delivery.
Subscriptions will be received at the office of the Alexandria Gazette.

THIS is intended as a permanent establishment, and the community will find it one of the greatest conveniences in the United States, and of great public utility.
At this house the fair exchange on the different banks, from every part of the union can at all times be had: It is to be hoped that, by the operations of this office, the community will get rid of a host of Shiocks, Shavers, Secret and Running Brokers, who infest the District, frequently proclaiming the failure of country solvent banks; for the express purpose of purchasing the notes of such institutions at great discounts. Business under the following heads will be transacted. This establishment possesses funds to negotiate for any amount, and all business done for cash.

L. Masterson, BOOT AND SHOE-MAKER.
RETURNS his grateful thanks to his friends and the public in general, for the liberal patronage he has received in his line of business, and hopes they will continue it. He has on hand a good assortment of the best Philadelphia leather, which he intends manufacturing in the best manner: for neatness and durability it will be excelled by none. He has on hand a good assortment of Boots, Breeches and Shoes, which he will sell on reasonable terms, for cash, or to punctual customers at the usual credit, at his old stand opposite the Gazette office, Royal-street.

Exchange & Broker's Office,
Georgetown, District of Columbia.
ROMULUS RIGGS,
AT his office, next door below Craw-ford's tavern, Bridge-st. Georgetown, will exchange all kind of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him, as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U.
States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and West, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittance to the large commercial and Atlantic towns,—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed,—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on.

Single Flageolet, and Music arranged and neatly copied.
Oct 29 LIONEL J. LARKIN.

Gone to the Southward or Westward.
A YELLOW WOMAN, called Celia Detcher, in the 23d year of her age, about 5 feet 2 or 3 inches high—marks like moles on the right side of her face, which, with several letters on her left arm, were made with india ink. She is about four months gone in a state of pregnancy—followed her husband, Jim Clark, a yellow man, who was purchased from this place and taken away in company with a large number of slaves, about two weeks ago, by a man of the name of Baset. It is supposed they have gone to the westward: Celia was born free, and had with her a notarial certificate of her freedom, and description of her person. Her mother, the subscriber, is much afflicted by her manner of going away, and desires that any humane people who may chance to meet with her, will persuade her to return, being apprehensive that when she gets into a strange country, where she will be unknown and out of the reach of her friends and those who would be likely to protect her, attempts may be made by some avaricious and unprincipled persons, to deprive her of her liberty, and sell her for a slave. Should any such attempt be made, fifty dollars reward will be paid to any person who will communicate such information as shall lead to the conviction of the offenders, and the recovery of the woman.
HANNAH DETCHER.
Alexandria, October 6, 1818.

To the Public.

A unusual sensibility has been excited in the minds of our countrymen by the copper plate engraving of the Declaration of Independence—hence recently published, accompanied by fac-similes of the signatures of those illustrious patriots, who framed the document by which our independence was announced to the world. We feel, while we dwell on these signatures, as if we were ushered into the immediate presence of characters so exalted, and we seem for a time to participate in all the emotion which they felt on the approach of so awful a crisis—Hostile armies, desolate fields, towns and cities in conflagration—savage and death in its most frightful forms appeared in prophetic vision on the one hand, and more than all, the complicated horrors, ignominy and slavery were presented for their acceptance on the other; they deliberated, they paused, they trembled, and at last solemnly appealing to the God of battles, they resolved that the United States were and ought to be free, sovereign and independent. These illustrious patriots, with five solitary exceptions, have now mingled with the common mould—they survive only in their country's glory and in the recollection of a grateful people. But it would be consoling to the present generation, separated as they now are from those patriots, by the intervention of the tomb, to become more intimately acquainted with their revolutionary benefactors. We love to dwell on the features of such men, snatched by the pencil from the oblivion of the grave, and emulate the prominent traits of their biography. Impressed with these ideas, the subscriber proposes, if suitable encouragement is given, to publish the lives of those patriots in numbers, until the whole is completed. The work will be executed in a style not inferior to any European productions, and the portraits by masters of ac-knowledgeed merit. The biography will be written by Paul Allen, esq., whose intimacy with the several signers, whose familiarity with the privations and hardships they had to undergo, and whose well known talents will be sufficient to ensure the patronage of an enlightened people. In the execution of this work, all that the publisher dares to promise is, that he will endeavor to deserve the confidence of his countrymen, and that no exertion on his part will be wanting to prevent an abuse of that confidence. He ventures to solicit the assistance of those gentlemen in possession of authentic facts and anecdotes, by communicating the intelligence that will serve to illustrate the characters and to an-rich the biography of those founders of the American Republic.—Those who are in possession of their portraits would enlarge the obligation by a loan of the same.
A prospectus with the terms will be given in a few days.

Laws of the District of Columbia.

In the press, and will shortly be published,
By DAVIS & FORCE,
IN THE CITY OF WASHINGTON,
"A COMPLETE CODE OF LAWS
With a copious index, prepared and reported by the Hon. chief justice CRANCH, to the congress of the United States, for their sanction; agreeably to the provisions of the act of the 29th April, 1816, entitled "an act authorizing the judges of the circuit court and the attorney for the District of Columbia, to prepare a code of jurisprudence for the said District."

The laws by which this District is now governed, can only be found by a reference to the numerous volumes containing those of the United States, of the states of Virginia and Maryland, and of England—therefore the acquisition of this code (which will comprise the whole in one volume,) must be considered as of the first importance, by all magistrates, gentlemen of the bar, and citizens in general, who have, heretofore, experienced the necessity of a work of this description.
A few extra copies will be printed for such persons only as apply previous to the publication of the work.
Gentlemen who wish to be supplied, will please to leave their names at this office.

The National Register
Is a paper which is published, every Saturday, at the city of Washington, in the District of Columbia, and each number contains sixteen pages octavo, in small but very legible type. It makes two volumes in the year; and every volume is accompanied with a copious index. The price per annum is five dollars, payable in advance.
The Public Documents, both foreign and domestic, the proceedings of Congress, and authentic news of every description, are regularly inserted therein, and accompanied by critical and explanatory remarks.—Its value is also enhanced by occasional reviews of literary works; and all its sentiments are decidedly American, independent of all party considerations. For this work, which is well established, regularly published, and transmitted weekly to subscribers by the mail, the public patronage is respectfully solicited.

GAZETTE

Alexandria Daily Advertiser.

PUBLISHED BY
SAMUEL SNOWDEN,
ROYAL STREET.

Daily Gazette, 7 dols. Country, 5 dols.

MONDAY, MARCH 1, 1819.

Worth, say many persons, is never felt or known till friendship awakens the mind into a judicious appreciation of its excellence—but, differing with them, I must assert it as my opinion, that worth will find its way to the human heart without the aid of friendly offices, like a comet in the Heavens, it is seen and known without being actually felt.

From the new volume of Memoirs just published.

ANECDOTE OF FRANKLIN.

About the year 1752, Dr. Franklin having entered into a correspondence with Sam. Johnson, Dr. of Divinity in the University of Oxford, and afterwards president of the King's College in New-York, and having endeavored to induce the latter to accept the presidency of the College in Philadelphia, and as an additional motive to his doing so, having offered to procure the erection of a new episcopal church for him in that city—and Dr. Johnson having expressed some doubts respecting the propriety of such a measure, Dr. F. wrote a letter for the purpose of removing his scruples, of which the following extract has been preserved, viz: "Your tenderness for the church's peace is truly laudable—but, methinks, to build a new church in a growing place is not properly dividing but multiplying, and will readily be a means of increasing the number of those who worship God in that way. Many who cannot now be accommodated in the church, go to other places or stay at home; and if we had another church many who go to other places, or stay at home, would go to church. I had for several years nailed against the wall of my house, a pigeon box that would hold six pair, and though they bred as fast as my neighbor's pigeons, I never had more than six pair; the old and strong driving out the young and weak, and obliging them to seek new habitations. At length I put up an additional box, with apartments for entertaining 12 pair more, and it was soon filled with inhabitants; by the overflowing of the first box, and others in the neighborhood. This I take to be a parallel case with the building a new church here."

ANECDOTE OF MARSHAL TURRENE.

It was well known of this hero that his true heroism (for such it really was) was only to be equalled by his solid and manly piety, equally remote, on the one hand, from the superstitions of his own age, and upon the other, the indifference of ours. In a court of gallantry, and in times when the point of honor (falsely so called) was preserved in its full extravagance, the marshal was never known either to fight a duel or to be engaged in an intrigue. The grace, the dignity, with which he once released himself from an embarrassment of this nature, will at once give an exalted idea of what he was; and be a sufficient answer to the favorite question of the defenders of duelling—"how is it to be refused?"—Let the anecdote of Turrene answer them.

A young officer, of noble family, and, with the exception of the following instance in his conduct, of real worth, imagined he had received an insult from the Marshal, and demanded satisfaction in the usual forms.—The Marshal made no reply to his challenge; the officer repeated it several times—but the Marshal still maintained the same silence. Irritated at this apparent contempt, the officer resolved to compel him to the acceptance of his invitation:—for this purpose he watched him upon his walks, and at length met him in the public street, accompanied by two other general officers: he hurried towards him, and to the astonishment and even terror of all who saw him, spat in the Marshal's face. Let us endeavor to form some conception of the grossness of the insult. The object of it was the great Turrene, a marshal of France, and one of the greatest generals that Europe has produced. The companions of the Marshal started back in amazement! The Marshal, his countenance glowing with a sense of indignity, seized the hilt of his sword, and had already half unsheathed it,—when, to the astonishment of the spectators, he suddenly returned it to the scabbard, and taking his handkerchief from his pocket, "young man," said he, "could I wipe your blood from my conscience with as much ease as I can your spittle from my face, I would take your life on the spot—go, sir." Saying this, the Marshal retired in all the majesty of triumphant virtue. The young officer was so much struck, as well with his manner as with his virtue that he did not cease till he had obtained pardon of the Marshal. Turrene afterwards became his patron, and under such a predecessor he became almost the rival of his fame.

ALEXANDRIA: MONDAY, MARCH 1, 1819.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON
Friday, February 26.

Yesterday, after a kind of jiggling debate in the house of representatives, in which the gentlemen who want to put down the United States bank, and those who endeavor, (not in vain, thank God) to uphold it, were alternately up and down, offering resolutions, preferring amendments, and making and resisting motions, the triumph of that institution was completed, by very large majorities. In the committee of the whole, on Wednesday, it had, as my letter informed you, a victory; and yesterday, the report of that was before the house; to have the decisions of the committee finally considered, and the first question was, whether the house would concur with the committee in their disagreement to the resolution proposed by Mr. Johnson of Virginia, the object of which was to repeal the incorporation act of the United States? The disagreement of the committee to that resolution was confirmed by a majority taken by yeas and nays, of ninety-one—yeas 121, nays 30.

The next question was on concurring with the committee in disagreeing to Mr. Trimble's motion for a scire facias, when the majority in favor of concurrence with the committee, taken also by yeas and nays, was seventy-seven—yeas 116, nays 39.

The bill with its amendments then stood for consideration, when Mr. Rose moved to refer it to the judiciary committee, for the purpose of introducing clauses, one to prohibit the practice of usury by the bank, and to annex to it, when committed by the bank or any of its branches, agents, officers or directors a proper punishment—in a word, to declare them disqualified from office in the bank, or under the U. States—the others, to prohibit the continuance, by the United States bank, of branch offices, in any state, after the 1st of February, 1820, without the consent of the legislature of that state. In order to get rid of another speechification, Gen. Harrison moved to postpone the bill, which was negatived—after which, Mr. Pindall's motion was crushed under the weight of a huge majority, and all the amendments were agreed to.

Mr. Johnson, of Virginia, then moved an amendment, the object of which was, (in plain language) to prevent bribery of the officers of the bank, which was carried by yeas and nays, 98 to 26.

On engrossing and reading the third time, the majority was also immense: yeas 93, nays 38—60.

Sat quod sufficit.
So much for that mighty act of inquiry, "Which roar'd so loud, and thunder'd in the index."

There is no doubt that the bank will stand the firmer for the deadly stroke that has been aimed at it, and the strong repercussion that has followed, as the oak is rooted the deeper by the storm that passes over it. The restoration of public confidence, to a great extent as confidence ought to be given, will follow—and if the office of president of the bank should be elevated to moral dignity, by Mr. Cheves's acceptance of it, the purity of the institution, and its management will be at once placed out of the reach of suspicion.

Saturday, February 27.

A resolution was proposed by Mr. Poindester, to enquire into the expediency of providing for the establishment of a provisional government in Florida, lately ceded by Spain, and passed. A bill for reducing the duties on certain kinds of wine was passed. Had such heavy duties as wines have been saddled with for some years past never been laid upon them, we should have had by this time much more temperance and much fewer soakers of whisky and ardent spirits in our country.

"This heavy-headed revel, east and west, Makes us traduced and tax'd of other nations: They yclep us drunkards, and with swinish phrase Soil our addition; and indeed it takes From our achievements, tho' perform'd at height, The pith and marrow of our attribute."

A bill enforcing the provisions of the charter of the bank of the United States, as to the election of directors was read a third time and passed.

The bill from the senate, proposing an amendment of the constitution, was brought before the house in committee, and after some little stir about amendments, was, in consideration of the want of time to carry it through advisedly in the residue of the session, (hear this ye moths of the public time!) laid upon the table, by a vote taken by yeas and nays of 79 to 73. Considering the importance of the subject, we may consider half, at least, of the next session as disposed of by the postponement of this bill. Who is he so humble as not to display his eloquence on such an occasion? Heaven help the hearers, say I, marry and amen.

The Legislature of Virginia, have passed a law forbidding the carrying of cysiers out of that state, by any captain or skipper, under a penalty of 100 dollars, for each offence, except from the waters of the Potomack and Potomoke rivers, common to Maryland and Virginia. The law provides further, that on information being lodged with a justice of the peace that any boat or vessel has cysiers on board, fished from waters of that state, with intent to transport them out of the limits of the state, the captain, skipper or other person having command of the same, shall be immediately arrested and compelled to give bail for his appearance at the next court; and in default, he shall be imprisoned in the common jail till court term.

SUPREME COURT.

Thursday, February 25.

Mr. Justice STORY delivered the opinion of the court, in the case of the brig Friendschaft and cargo, argued by Mr. Ogden and Mr. Wheaton, for the captors, and by Mr. Hopkinson, for the Claimants. The sentence of the Circuit Court was affirmed, and the property condemned. This decision settles a point of law very important to the mercantile world, that where a house is established in the enemy's country, and one or more of the partners reside in the United States, or in a neutral country, his is liable to condemnation as a prize of war, notwithstanding his personal domicile in the neutral country, as well as the shares of his co-partners, who are actually resident in the enemy's country.

Mr. Jones and Mr. Marlin (Attorney-General of Maryland) continued the argument of the case of McCulloch against the State of Maryland. [Nat. Intelligencer.]

We understand that the U. S. ship Hornet, Captain Reid, is ordered round from Boston to Annapolis, to take on board the Hon. John Forsyth, who is appointed Minister at the Court of Madrid.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION.

The Editor of the Savannah Republican in noticing the arrest in Savannah, of the counterfeiter mentioned a day or two since in the papers of this city, states the following particulars:

"The real name of this individual is JOHN MORSE. He is a man of considerable information, and graduated at Rhode Island College. On Saturday night last, Morse was brought up under a writ of habeas corpus, before Judge Berrien, on a plea of his being innocent of the charge alleged against him. The case was fully argued for and against him. The Judge, afterwards, summed up the evidence, and expounded the law in a clear and concise manner. Morse was remanded to prison, where he will remain until May next, at which time the Superior Court will sit."

From the Connecticut Current.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.
The notorious William Newman, who was committed to Newgate three years since, on the charge of burglary, having robbed the house of Mr. H. Butler of New Haven, of plate, money, &c. was liberated on Monday last from the state prison, his term of confinement having expired. This William Newman is the same person who in the memoirs which have been before the public is called the "Mysterious Stranger"—and whose extraordinary conduct during his confinement in New Brunswick when he was under sentence of death, excited so much curiosity and surprise. That the public may be on their guard against this artful fellow, we subjoin the following description of him. "He is about 5 feet 9 inches high; his limbs strait and well proportioned; appears rather slender, but large boned, close and well jointed; his wrists large and his fingers uncommonly long, complexion light, but his skin of a yellow cast his hair dark brown, and curls naturally in front, his eyes light grey, quick and piercing; his nose rather more prominent than ordinary, his visage thin, has a scar on the right cheek near his ear; is neat in his dress, and very quick in his motion, fond of smoking, sings well, and whistles remarkably, and can play on almost any instrument of music, and can work with wonderful facility at many kinds of mechanical business."

From the Norfolk Herald.

LATEST FROM GIBRALTAR.
From the same intelligent correspondent to whom we have repeatedly been indebted for similar favors, we have received the following interesting communication, dated—

"Gibraltar, Jan. 9, 1819.

"The only news I have to give you is, the death of the Queen of Spain, (of transient memory) last week, in child-bed. It being absolutely necessary to extract the fœtus, she expired in convulsions twenty minutes after that operation was performed. A pretty general rumour is in circulation that she was poisoned; but why she should have been the victim of secret resentment, is not stated; and as the King has certainly removed to the Escorial since the demise of his Consort, it has been whispered in no very low tone, that the germs of revolt have become so apparent as to render some preparation for his safety a matter of necessary precaution. There are some more charitable, however, who say, that the king has absented himself from his court, only from a pious inclination to brood over his grief in tranquillity. But nothing authentic can be known abroad, and a rupture outright will perhaps take place before it is known beyond the vicinity of the Capitol. Certain it is that the sufferings of the Spanish people have reached that climax, "when forbearance ceases to be a virtue," and they are fully sensible of it. An uncommonly intelligent Spaniard with whom I have conversed, states, that the nation is now ready for the worst, and must ere long give a loose to their indignation. It would be needless to give you all the arguments which he urges in support of his opinion—many of them will be found in the black catalogue of wrongs which have oppressed the nation ever since the king's return to the throne.

"With respect to the 'grand expedition fitting out at Cadiz, nothing new has transpired—I may say, however, that so far from being in a progressive train, it is rather advancing in a retrograde direction, (to borrow a bull) and in the opinion of every man in his senses must fall, another and a melancholy monument of the vanity, the folly and the blindness of the government."

"Our squadron a few weeks ago were at Messina, but we expect the fligate United States, here soon, on her way home."

"P. S. The brig Two Brothers, Simmons, from your port, arrived here the 3d inst, via Madiera, with her entire cargo, market hunting—the ship Atalanta, Rose, from Baltimore direct, in 30 days passage, is also here discharging."

LATEST FROM BERMUDA.

A respectable mercantile friend has put into our hands the supplement to the Bermuda Gazette, Feb. 3, from which we extract the following articles:

"The inhabitants of Nassau, are using the utmost endeavors, assisted by those of Jamaica, to induce the British government to extend the privilege of a free intercourse with the United States, to New-Province."

Rum cannot be lawfully exported from the British to the foreign Islands in the West Indies. The following is published officially in the St. Vincent's Gazette:—

Custom House, King's-ston, 1st January 1819.

The following letter, received by the last Packet, which will prevent Rum being cleared in future at this port for any foreign Island in the West Indies, is inserted for public information."

Custom-House, London, 3d December 1818.

"Gentlemen—A doubt having arisen, whether under the words, 'Colonies or Plantations in America,' as used in the 8th Section of the 45th Geo. III. Chap. 57, Rum may be exported from any of the free ports enumerated in the said act, to any foreign Island in the West Indies: 'And the Attorney and Solicitor General having given it as their opinion that the words alluded to do not include 'Islands in the West Indies,' and that therefore the said Section does not authorise such exportation. We acquaint you therewith, and direct you to govern yourselves accordingly."

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided into lots. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaster acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—It has over 500 beehives in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain; being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole; it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary out-house, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might), have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creek, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvas backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the R.R., will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.
September 4 GEORGE MASON.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE subscriber is desirous of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutritious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; wagon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—It would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, Esq. or
